NINTH LESSON

Iere Suite

De Caix d'Hervelois. 1735.
Arranged by Arnold Dolmetsch.

Notes on the Suite by De Caix d'Hervelois

The Prelude, Deux Menuets, Sarabande and Muzette form part of a gay and graceful suite by De Caix d'Hervelois, published in 1736.

The signs used to denote the various ornaments differ from those employed by Marais and other composers. Therefore, in order to avoid confusion I have written in appoggiaturas and slurs, and used the conventional signs for trills and mordents. There occurs in the Prelude, a short passage in the high register which would prove difficult for the inexperienced player. This has been put down an octave, also a high passage in the Muzette entirely beyond the frets, has been omitted in order to bring these delightful pieces within the technical ability of the pupil.

Prelude

Lentement $\text{♩} = 69$

Musical score for piano, page 5, featuring five staves of music:

- Staff 1 (Top): Treble clef, key signature of two sharps. Dynamics: tr, p, f. Articulation marks: +, 4, tr, v.
- Staff 2 (Second from top): Treble clef, key signature of two sharps. Dynamics: p, f.
- Staff 3 (Third from top): Treble clef, key signature of two sharps. Dynamics: p.
- Staff 4 (Fourth from top): Treble clef, key signature of one sharp. Dynamics: p.
- Staff 5 (Bottom): Bass clef, key signature of one sharp. Measures show various bass notes and chords.

The score consists of five staves of musical notation for piano, spanning five lines. The first staff uses a treble clef, while the second, third, and fourth staves use a soprano C-clef. The fifth staff uses a bass clef. The key signature is indicated by two sharps in the first, third, and fourth staves, and one sharp in the fifth staff. Various dynamics are marked throughout the score, including p (piano), f (forte), tr (trill), and v (vibrato). Articulation marks such as '+' and '4' are also present. Measure numbers 2 and 3 are written above the third and fourth staves respectively. The score concludes with a dynamic marking 'rall.' (rallentando) over the final measure.
