This well-known piece is not in the Purcell Society Volumes. The tune appears to have been a popular one, and a favourite of Prince George of Denmark (Queen Anne's Consort). Hence the title, "Prince of Denmark's March," under which it appears in a collection of harpsichord pieces by Jeremiah Clarke 1659-1707 and other composers, edited by Fuller Maitland and published by Chester.

The image shows a page of sheet music for piano, featuring four staves of musical notation. The music is in common time and consists of measures 4 through 8. The first staff (treble clef) has a dynamic marking of mf a tempo. The second staff (bass clef) has a dynamic marking of mf. The third staff (treble clef) has a dynamic marking of a tempo. The fourth staff (bass clef) has a dynamic marking of rall. al fine. A large, semi-transparent watermark reading "PREVIEW" diagonally across the page obscures much of the music. Below the watermark, the word "Low Resolution" is visible.
